

'One of the best little museums in Scotland'...

... is how the National Trust for Scotland recently described Gairloch Heritage Museum. This award winning, nationally accredited independent museum is housed in an historic farm steading in the heart of Gairloch. Its museum, archive and library collections present a fascinating historical insight into the area and an enriching, enjoyable experience for visitors.

Visit this 'gem of a museum' where history comes alive.

"Enjoyed by all the family."

We offer discounted rates for group admissions (10+). For further information please contact us.

Why not consider unlimited free entry with:

Family Membership £20

Individual Membership £10

Ask at the museum or visit our website for details.

We are on Facebook

www.facebook.com/gairlochheritagemuseum

Read our reviews on Trip Advisor

www.tripadvisor.co.uk

Gairloch Heritage Museum, Achtercairn, Gairloch, Ross-shire, IV21 2BP

tel : 01445 712287

email : info@gairlochheritagemuseum.org

web : www.gairlochheritagemuseum.org

For more leaflets email : leaflets@gairlochheritagemuseum.org

Images by John Clarke www.ewe-ser-friendly.co.uk

Gairloch Heritage Museum

Open April - October

Mon - Fri 10am - 5pm

Saturday 11am - 3pm

Admission Fees 2015

Adult (17+) £4.00

Senior Citizen £3.00

Student/SYHA £3.00

Child (5-16) £1.00

Members Free

Gairloch Heritage Museum

www.gairlochheritagemuseum.org

Museum Highlights

- Discover the story of one of the oldest geological landscapes in the world
- Unearth illicit distilling practices in remote parts of the parish
- See the Preacher's Ark, used for outdoor worship
- Explore the authentic croft house and village shop interiors
- Marvel at the stunning Fresnel lens and original mechanism from the monumental Stevenson lighthouse at nearby Ruadh Reidh
- Admire the first Pictish stone to be found on the West Coast of Scotland

"Excellent resource, diverse and inspirational, sincere and welcoming."

"A first rate museum for young children and oldies like us!"

For our Temporary Exhibition programme see www.gairlochheritagemuseum.org/exhibitions.html

"Fascinating insight into the history of this beautiful place."

"A fabulous collection of local history, beautifully displayed and imaginatively curated."

Archive & Library Holdings

We welcome visits by appointment to our archive and library where we hold original records and manuscripts detailing the history of the people and places of Wester Ross including:

- Family history records
- Local history resources
- More than 3000 historic images of the area
- 19th century Gairloch Estate maps
- A reference library focused on the local region
- Rare books of local interest
- A substantial and valuable collection of Gaelic literature and Gaelic studies materials

"A gem of a museum. Loved it!"

